

THE ORGANIZATION

Feeding Westchester is looking for people with the passion, courage, and creativity to create meaningful change in the lives of others. As Westchester County's leading hunger relief organization, we moved nearly 10 million pounds of food to agencies and partners across Westchester County, including food pantries, soup kitchens, senior centers and schools last year. We supplied 8.4 million meals to children, families, and seniors, mobilized 11,000 volunteers, and raised over $5 million in donations to help end hunger here.

When COVID-19 brought the world to a standstill, Feeding Westchester never closed. Instead, the team mobilized and responded to unprecedented need for food, delivering more than 12 million pounds of food since March! Because of that, kids, families and seniors affected by the pandemic did not have to worry about where their next meal would come from. Though Westchester entered Phase 4 of reopening in July, we know our work is not done. Unemployment continues to rise, as does the need for food. We're looking for talented people to continue our mission to ensure as much food as possible on as many tables as possible for as long as there is need. What are you looking for?

THE OPPORTUNITY

Feeding Westchester has an exciting opportunity for a visionary and mission-driven Nutrition Resource Manager. Reporting directly to the Director of Community Impact, the Nutrition Resource Manager plays a critical role in leading Feeding Westchester's Programs and Innovation efforts to build awareness about our mission, services, needs and successes, as well as to position the organization in leading hunger-relief in Westchester County. We are looking for someone with a solid nutrition and food safety background who is passionate about driving programming and engagement with our partners and clients throughout the community! Spanish speaking a plus!

JOB SUMMARY

The Nutrition Resource Manager is a grant-funded position by the New York state Department of Health, Hunger Prevention Nutrition Assistance Program. The NRM is responsible for planning and implementing Food Safety/Nutrition Education to Feeding Westchester member programs, their clients, and Feeding Westchester staff. This position will collaborate internally to ensure that a safe and nutritious food supply is stored and delivered to member programs for distribution to hungry people in Westchester County, and improve client quality of life due to better health through better nutrition. This position requires active on-site and hands-on work in the field engaging with our partners throughout the County and may require some evening and weekend hours.
